The San Francisco Police Department is proud to present safe Halloween activities for our City's children this weekend. On Friday, October 30th from 3:30pm until 6:00pm, the Department's Northern Station will help host a free Halloween barbecue for children in our Western Addition community at Ella Hill Hutch Center, located at 1050 McAllister Street. The event, presented by Mo Magic, will include arts and crafts activities a "sock hop," and a reading station in which officers will read stories to children.

On Saturday, October 31st, the SFPD will host a first ever Halloween party from 11:30am until 4:30pm in the Police Headquarters building, located at 1245 3rd Street. There will be free food, games, a photo booth and arts and crafts activities for children ages 14 and under. It is the first time the department has hosted a Halloween party for the public.
