Several months ago the San Francisco Police Department started production of a podcast series intended to share more information regarding our policies, projects, and personnel and how we'd like to become a better department.

Our first podcast episode, recorded on March 6th, 2020, is a conversation with San Francisco Police Chief William Scott on reform and SFPD's progress in the Collaborative Reform Initiative which we undertook in October of 2016.

Our nation is in the midst of a conversation about police and the SFPD has made some strides in our reform efforts. Please use the links below to learn about the work SFPD is doing to build trust with the public and become the guardians our communities expect and deserve.
