COMMUNITY TOWN HALL

Listening Session
open to the public and press

Help us enhance and improve the San Francisco Police Department by participating in this important, interactive community event.

The U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS Office) wants to hear your perspectives, concerns, and suggestions regarding the San Francisco Police Department and its interaction with the San Francisco community.

Your participation in this open forum will help guide our efforts to advance the operations, staff, policies, procedures, accountability systems, and training of the San Francisco Police Department.

At this listening session, representatives from the COPS Office will introduce the Collaborative Reform Initiative and hear from community members.

Perspectives, concerns, and suggestions regarding the San Francisco Police Department and the department's interaction with the San Francisco community are welcome.

Help us enhance and improve the San Francisco Police Department by participating in this important, interactive community event.

For more information about the Collaborative Reform Initiative, please visit the COPS Office website at <http://www.cops.usdoj.gov/>. If you would like to contact the COPS-TA core assessment team, you may e-mail us at sanfrancisco.crit@usdoj.gov.

The San Francisco Police Department is working with the United States Department of Justice, (DOJ), Office of Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) on a Collaborative Reform Initiative for Technical Assistance (CRI) of our agency.

The purpose of the Collaborative Reform is to improve trust between police agencies and the communities they serve. The process is a long-term, strategy approach that identifies issues within an agency that may be affecting public trust and offers recommendations based on a comprehensive assessment on how to resolve those issues.

The first step the DOJ takes in this process is to hold community listening sessions. The goal is to provide a forum in which members of the community are able to express their suggestions, concerns, and ideas to the DOJ Collaborative Team.

Dates of these community meetings are held as followed:

Wednesday, February 24, 2016

6:00 pm – 8:00 pm

Thurgood Marshall High School

45 Conkling Street – San Francisco

Tuesday, March 8th, 2016

6:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Mission High School Auditorium

3750 18th Street- San Francisco

Thursday, March 10th, 2016

6:00 pm - 8:00 pm

Gateway High School Auditorium

1430 Scott Street - San Francisco

We would like to stress that although the Police Department supports this initiative and is actively assisting in spreading the word in regard to the listening sessions, representatives from the Police Department will not be in attendance at these meetings.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact the US Department of Justice directly at: SanFrancisco.CRITA@usdoj.gov
